MUMPS APPEAR IN COLLEGE DORMS

Several Students Develop Typical Cases, Others Go Home when they Believe Disease is about to Make its Appearance.

Two of the three dormitories at college report cases of mumps. Two students have been reported as ill with the disease and two others, believing they were about to develop the ailment, beat a hasty departure and are believed to have gone to their homes to spend their uncomfortable days there, or to return shortly if their symptoms prove a false alarm. It is feared that a much more general outbreak may occur at the school.

One of the cases is declared by the physician in charge to be the most typical of the present outbreak. The patient is McCullough, a member of the Junior class and captain of the foot ball team. Both cheeks are swollen to several times their normal size. The other case is not so severe but there is no question about its being the genuine article. Both rooms bear the yellow placards and students, generally, are advised to stay away from their unfortunate fellows.

The number of cases reported in the town goes on with little abatement. Seven were reported Monday, and five each on Tuesday and Wednesday. A peculiar co-incidence is that only two cases have appeared in the colored school, while the public schools have had a wide-spread infection. The Catholic schools escaped during the early portion of the epidemic but now several families have children ill with the disease.

The present contagion is one of the most wide-spread that has visited the town in recent years and the health authorities have had their hands more than full in coping with the outbreak. In spite of their vigorous efforts to stop its progress the ailment continues to find its victims and failure to regard reasonable precautions are blamed. Children, who have been ill with the mumps, are not allowed to return to school for three weeks but they mingle freely with their playmates on sidewalk and elsewhere, and this is largely responsible, it is believed, for the continued prevalence of the sickness in Gettysburg.

Many families have had nearly all the children ill and one of the most recently quarantined homes now has exactly seven children sick with the mumps—and all at one time.

GETS CALL

Rev. Charles N. Shindler, Dallastown, May Go to Lock Haven.

The Rev. Charles N. Shindler, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, Dallastown, received a telegram that he was unanimously elected pastor of St. John's English Lutheran church at Lock Haven, where he was called to deliver a sermon two weeks ago. The Rev. Mr. Shindler states that the call came as a surprise to him and he has not yet fully decided as to accepting it. Members of the congregation, however, believe that he will leave, which will be much to their regret. The Rev. Mr. Shindler is a recent graduate of Gettysburg Seminary.

AT THE REVIVALS

Dr. Weigle will Assist in Services at Biglerville.

Dr. E. D. Weigle will preach at the Biglerville Lutheran revival this evening. There were two decisions at Wednesday night's service. Two more conversions were added at the Methodist help service Wednesday night when there were ten penitents at the altar. Services here and in the United Brethren church will be held again this evening.

VIOLATE LAWS AT FARM SALES

Weigh Chickens in the Morning and Sell them in the Afternoon, Says County Official. Must Sell Grain by Weight, he Declares.

G. A. Raffensperger, sealer of weights and measures for this county, calls the attention of farmers having spring sales to two very common violations of which they are guilty and which, he says, will have to be discontinued.

The one is the weighing of chickens in the morning and then offering them for sale in the afternoon. He states that it is not uncommon for a coop of chickens to lose as much as ten pounds in weight in the meantime and that the purchaser as a result gets badly caught. With chickens selling at 17 and 18 cents a pound, the loss from this source is not trifling and no weighing should be done until the fowls are to be offered. Mr. Raffensperger even cites one instance where a farmer weighed the crate along with the chickens.

The other violation is in the selling of corn and other grains by the bushel. The law specifically states that corn must weigh 70 pounds to the bushel, yet, Mr. Raffensperger says, the great majority of farmers are selling it by the measure without any regard whatever to the weight. Scarcely any of the measures on the farms have been tested and, from the number in stores that were found faulty, it is reasonable to suppose that a like proportion on the farms are inaccurate. Grains, accordingly, should be sold full weight rather than by measure which are not known to be correct.

BAKED BREAD FOR INVADING FORCES

Forced to Provide Food for Gordon's Men before the Battle of Gettysburg. Mrs. Aldinger Died at her Home in York.

Mrs. Eliza S. Aldinger, who was compelled to bake bread for General Gordon's troops when they invaded York county, just prior to the Battle of Gettysburg, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. Edgar Sheets, in York on Wednesday.

The rebel bread-making occurred while Mrs. Aldinger resided near Brilhart's station. The invaders camped close to the Aldinger home and it was to prevent the threatened destruction of the family property that she performed the task.

The German Baptist church edifice in York was erected by Mrs. Aldinger as a monument to her husband after his death, eight years ago. She had been an active member of that faith from her girlhood.

She was 84 years old. Death was caused by a stroke of apoplexy, which occurred at about 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. It was her second stroke, the first, sustained about three weeks ago, having confined her to bed.

Mrs. Aldinger is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Sheets, and 15 grandchildren. Funeral on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the home of her daughter.

W. C. Albright has sold his property near Green Ridge schoolhouse, Hamilton township, to Titus Trostle, residing on the Dellone farm in the same township for $1200. Mr. Albright will remain on the property until April 1, 1916.

TWO IN JAIL

Various Charges Preferred. Two against F. W. Kappes.

At a hearing before Squire Hill Wednesday afternoon F. W. Kappes was held for Court in default of $750 bail. Two charges were preferred against him, one of pointing a gun at his wife, and the other surety of the peace.

George Mills, of Maria Furnace, is in the county jail charged with a serious offense. The arrest was made by Constable Reese of Hamilton township. A hearing will be held before Squire Low on Friday. The charge grew out of statements made by a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carbaugh, of Maria Furnace, who was on Wednesday committed to the insane department of the County Home.

CZAR GAINS IN FURIOUS BATTLE

They Cross the Bobr River at Two Points.

TURN ON PURSUING ENEMY

Berlin Admits Foe's Progress, But Claims Victory at All Other Points in Eastern Theater.

Berlin, Feb. 25.—The official report on the progress of the war, given out in Berlin, says the Russians have succeeded in crossing the Bobr river, in northern Poland, in two places.

"A new Russian advance against Grodno was easily repulsed. Southeast of Augustowo the Russians crossed the Bobr river in two places. Near Sztubin they already have been driven back. Near Krasnyoborg the engagement continued.

"Near Przasnysz 1200 Russians were made prisoners and two cannon were taken.

"A Russian night attack east of Skierniewice was repulsed."

Say Germans Lost 100,000.

Paris, Feb. 25.—"The German embassy here admits that General von Hindenburg's losses in his drive in East Prussia were 100,000, including dead, wounded and prisoners," says a dispatch from Rome to the Paris Echo.

Germans Checked, Says Russia.

Petrograd, Feb. 25.—The following official communication was issued by the war office here:

"Severe fighting continues on the right banks of the Bobr and Narw rivers. German detachments which took the offensive near Ossowetz on Feb. 21 were forced back by the fire of our artillery. Fighting has been in progress north of Lomza on the roads to Radzilow, Artchoutchina and Kolno. In spite of attacks by strong forces we hold Jedwabno.

"A German attack along the Szczecin-Kolno road was supported during the night of Feb. 22 by armored automobiles and was unusually intense.

"The German offensive continues in the Przasnysz district. Three attacks upon Przasnysz were repulsed, our armored automobiles assisting greatly in this respect. Their fire decimated the Germans at a distance of seventy-five paces. On the road to Pionsk some villages changed hands several times.

"In the Carpathians the Austrians bombarded a convent south of Mezolaborz with twelve-inch mortars. We repulsed persistent Austrian attacks in the region of Mikok, Smolinka and Tiszvoca, and inflicted enormous loss upon the enemy in the region of Myto Kozlourka.

"Austrian troops have taken the places of the Germans south of Bolina. Obsolete fighting has begun at Stanislaw against great forces of the enemy.

"Between Jan. 21 and Feb. 20 our army in the Carpathians captured 691 officers, 47,640 men, seventeen cannon and 118 mitrailleuses."

Russian Attack Shattered.

Vienna, Feb. 25.—The following official communication was issued:

"In Russian Poland there is nothing significant to report.

"Foggy weather in west Galicia impedes the activity of the troops.

"On the Carpathian front the Russian attacks were shattered in the usual manner and with important losses to the enemy. Five officers and 550 men were made prisoners.

"The battle south of the Dniester river continues. On this battlefield our trusty Croatian troops, in a successful attack, drove the Russians from several places, captured positions on heights strongly fortified by the enemy and advanced our front."

Deadlock in Bukovina.

London, Feb. 25.—Austrian troops and artillery have evacuated the positions they occupied on the Bukovina frontier across the Pruth river from Mamornita, Rumania, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Mamornita, dated Monday.

The retiring forces are said to have moved back to Czernowitz because of the accurate Russian artillery fire. The Austrians fear that the Russians are preparing a new offensive in the direction of Czernowitz and there are no signs of an attempt by the Austrians to a further advance.

Big German Gun Explodes.

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 25.—One of the largest and newest of the heavy German guns, which was being used in the bombardment of a position of the allies near Thann, Alsace, exploded. One officer and five gunners were killed.

Believe Submarine Is Sunk.

Copenhagen, Feb. 25.—A German submarine signalled the Swedish pilot boat Iris for assistance off Mundell. The Iris could not approach her, because of mines, and the submarine suddenly sank. It is believed to have hit a mine.

BRITISH WARSHIP SUNK; 280 MEN LOST

Admiralty Gives Up Hope For Clan MacNaughton.

London, Feb. 25.—The official information announced that the Clan MacNaughton, an armed merchant cruiser with 280 men on board, has been given up for lost.

The vessel was last heard from on Feb. 3, and it is feared that she has been lost.

The text of the bureau's announcement follows:

"The secretary of the admiralty regrets to announce that H. M. S. Clan MacNaughton, an armed merchant cruiser, Commander Robert Jeffreys, R. N., has been missing since Feb. 3, and it is feared that the vessel has been lost.

"An unsuccessful search has been made, and wreckage supposed to be portions of this ship has since been discovered.

"The last signal received from the Clan MacNaughton was made in the early morning of Feb. 3, and it is feared she was lost during the bad weather which prevailed at that time."

FRENCH DRIVEN BACK

Germans Tell of Enemy's Repeated Attacks in Champagne Region.

Berlin, Feb. 25.—The statement of the war office follows:

"In the western theater of war, near Perthes, in Champagne, French infantry divisions made an attack on several places. Violent hand-to-hand fighting took place, which everywhere resulted in favor of the Germans. The enemy suffered heavy losses and was driven back to his positions.

"In the Vosges German attacks against Sulzern and Muehlbach, east of Stossweier, made progress. In the engagements during the last few days we made 500 prisoners."

Hard Fight East of Rheims.

London, Feb. 25.—A bitter conflict still rages in the Champagne region and in the Vosges on the western battle front.

"The German general staff admits that the French are making a tenacious fight in Champagne, particularly in the vicinity of Perthes, but claims that the hand to hand combat there is proceeding favorably to the Germans.

"The Germans continue their assaults against the British on the Flanders end of the line. Along the North sea coast the Germans succeeded in making a gain and the French war office now admits that fighting is taking place west of Lombaertzyde. Between Ypres and the French front the Germans have been making furious drives against the British trenches, the infantry attacks being varied by the terrific artillery fire.

New German War Loan.

Berlin, Feb. 25.—The imperial government will issue shortly its second five per cent war loan. This is to consist of 1,000,000 marks ($250,000,000) in treasury notes, maturing at an average of five years. The issue price will be about 98.50.

To Blockade German East Africa.

Paris, Feb. 25.—The governments of France and Great Britain have caused notice to be served on the governor of German East Africa of a naval blockade beginning Feb. 28. Four days' notice will be allowed to neutral ships to quit the blockade zone.

ASKS REMOVAL OF MINE FIELD

Berlin and London Considering American Note.

ITS ACCEPTANCE DOUBTFUL

The Removal of Mine Field Is Said to Be One Proposal Which Will Be Unacceptable.

Berlin, Feb. 25.—The American identical note on mine warfare, sent by the United States government to Great Britain and Germany, is now in the hands of Doctor von Bethmann-Hollweg, imperial German chancellor, and Gottlieb von Jagow, the German foreign minister, who are examining carefully the various proposals contained in it.

"The German government is not yet ready to make a statement regarding the contents of the note, but it is said that they may be regarded as the basis of further negotiations. Certain of the proposals, as an example, the removal of the mine fields around England, probably will be unacceptable to Germany, but it is thought that Germany possibly may make concessions on other points.

It cannot be said, however, that there is any great optimism in either German or diplomatic quarters that Great Britain will accept any of the proposals permitting the importation of foodstuffs into Germany. The German government, it is said, is not counting on such concessions.

Great Britain Is Reticent.

London, Feb. 25.—The foreign office is extremely reticent in discussing the American proposal made to London and Berlin outlining a plan for the feeding of the civil population of Germany under certain regulations.

Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, and other members of the cabinet, still lay emphasis on the fact that Great Britain has not yet made food destined for Germany absolute contraband. While Sir Edward Grey's reply to the United States government's note concerning the food steamship Wilhelmina intimated that such a step probably would be necessary, the absolute prohibition of food shipments to Germany has not actually been announced.

RHEIMS CATHEDRAL A WRECK

Only One Tower Standing, Says Refugee Who Saw Bombardment.

Paris, Feb. 25.—The Cathedral of Notre Dame at Rheims is a wreck, according to a refugee who arrived here and told of the eleven-hour bombardment on Monday by the Germans.

He declared that only one of the towers remains standing, the other having been destroyed.

"The cathedral has suffered fearfully," he said. "One shell which fell on the roof caught between two rafters and was removed by firemen, it having failed to explode. As the shells tear away ancient stones and timber the white dust shoots out, enveloping the edifice."

When the refugee left Rheims there were thousands of inhabitants hiding in cellars and behind barricaded walls. Shells were falling on all sections of the city.

KILL CROWN PRINCE AGAIN

French Paper Prints More Rumors Regarding Kaiser's Elusive Heir.

Paris, Feb. 25.—A Geneva dispatch to the Excelsior says that for the third time since the outbreak of the war, rumors of the death of Crown Prince Frederick William are current in Germany.

It declares that a letter from Berlin says that the crown prince died in December, and that the German court is in mourning. The correspondent sending the dispatch adds that the lack of mention of the crown prince in the German official reports is significant.

The object of the Serbian offensive, it is believed, probably is to force the Austrians to send back to the west part of the troops operating against the Russians.

SCHAEFFERSTOWN BANK REOPENED

Institution Whose Cashier Ended Life Resumes.

Lebanon, Pa., Feb. 25.—Without a word of advertising, and not even an official announcement, the First National bank at Schaefferstown was reopened for business, to the joy of the residents of the town, and especially of depositors and stockholders, who had been in suspense ever since the morning of Feb. 6 last, when Alvin Binner, the cashier, blew out his brains.

Although the entire capital stock and surplus of the bank, over $40,000, was found to have been wiped out by Binner's mysterious dealings with Arthur J. Hoverter and other patrons of the bank, the stockholders put up $170 per share in the shape of a voluntary assessment.

By direction of the comptroller of the treasury, Bank Examiner J. M. Logan on Tuesday night turned the institution back into the hands of the directors.

While there was no public demonstration, the citizens made no effort to conceal their delight, for the long delay in resumption had led many to believe that the bank would never be reopened. Even now no statement has been given out as to the suicide cashier's exact shortage.

The company which bonded Binner, it has been learned, has not yet made payment of the $15,000 insurance, because of facts which may yet be brought to light showing that Binner was not responsible for the looting. Possible litigation to recover on the bond is the only hope that the public has of ever learning the inside tale.

MORE STATES TO SUBMIT SUFFRAGE

Triumph Comes After Years of Strenuous Work.

WOMEN WIN A BIG VICTORY

Cheers and Applause in Massachusetts
Until Speaker Ordered Galleries
Closed—In New Jersey Suffragists
Reached Governor Fielder Through
His Wife—In Planks of Both Parties.

New Jersey and Massachusetts have been added to the states in which the voters are to decide next fall whether the franchise shall be given to women. New York and her neighbors thus will have a livelier election than is usual in the year before a presidential campaign. In all three states the suffragists, elated at their success in the "stronghold of conservatism," are planning vigorous campaigns.

In New Jersey the state senate passed the woman's suffrage resolution, comma and all, by a vote of 17 to 4. The assembly had already ratified it, and the question will be put before the voters in September. Fears for the comma, which was said to be missing when the resolution left the assembly, proved groundless. It was in the official copy introduced before the senate.

The views of the senators were split four ways, regardless of their votes. Senator Hennessey, Democratic minority leader, voted for it because he thinks women should vote, and others voted for it because, regardless of their personal views, they thought the question should go before the voters. Besides those who voted "No" in accordance with their views on the propriety of giving women the vote there was Senator Ramsey.

"If this question were to be submitted to the women of the state," said Ramsey, "I might favor the resolution, because I do not believe the majority of the women want the ballot. But this question will now be submitted to the men, and we know that the men will be easily influenced by the woman suffragists. I fear that the proposed amendment will be adopted."

Two-thirds Vote Necessary.

In Massachusetts the suffrage amendment to the state constitution was passed by the house by a vote of 196 to 38. It had already passed the senate and will be acted on at the November election. It provides for striking out the word "male" from the constitutional qualification for voting. A two-thirds vote at the popular election will be necessary to pass it.

When the result was announced women in the gallery showered the legislators with bouquets. Cheers and applause resounded until the speaker ordered the galleries closed. Then the women went outside and had a jubilee.

Women spectators in Trenton made no demonstration. Their attitude was in keeping with the dignified campaign they have carried on for more than a generation in New Jersey.

Julia Ward Howe was one of the originators of the movement in New Jersey. Another pioneer was Dr. Madeline De Hart, who died about a year ago. The movement has permeated New Jersey rather than captured it by storm. Seventeen years ago it had crystallized into something definite and powerful. Since that day it has wedged its way into every corner of the state through women's clubs.

Two years ago the resolution came within an ace of going before the voters. It had been duly adopted by the legislature. At the last moment it was found that the state had not complied with the law in regard to advertising the question. It was that slip which made the suffragists fearful for the safety of their comma.

The suffragists reached Governor Fielder through his wife. They succeeded in getting a suffrage plank into the platforms of both the Republicans and Democrats and felt reasonably sure that their resolution would be adopted.

"TAG! YOU'RE IT!"—DEAD.

Girl of Five Expires of Heart Disease
While Ramping in Park.

Sophie Bandy, five years old, played tag with the big girls in De Witt Clinton park, New York city. She was "it" for a long time because her short legs couldn't keep up with the longer ones of her companions, but she stuck pluckily to her task and finally tagged another girl.

This one ran down Sophie's sister, Theresa, seven, and Theresa started after Sophie, who was panting from her previous exertions. The child sped off again and ran around and around the park, her sister at her heels.

Finally at a sharp turn Theresa caught her.

"Tag, you're it!" she cried. Sophie stumbled and fell, and the others waited for her to get up. When she did not stir they ran away frightened. One of them, called Patrolman Elder of the West Forty-seventh street station. He bent over the girl, then straightened up again quickly, his face pale.

He called an ambulance from Poly-clinic hospital, and Dr. Morgan, who was in attendance, said the girl had died of heart disease.

Sophie lived with her parents at 450 East Fifty-first street.

Forget Yourself.

PLENTY OF FOOD IN THIS COUNTRY

Report Shows 967,000,000
Bushels of Wheat.

ENOUGH FOR HOME NEEDS.

Normal Domestic Demand Not More
Than 610,000,000 Bushels—Wheat Does
Not Constitute More Than 12 Per Cent of Usual Diet, Says Department of Agriculture.

The United States department of agriculture gave out this statement, refuting the allegation that this country is threatened with a food shortage:

"The 1914 wheat crop of the United States was estimated to be 801,000,000 bushels. The estimated surplus carried over from the 1913 crop was about 76,000,000 bushels. There was, therefore, a total available supply of 967,000,000 bushels.

"As the normal annual per capita consumption of wheat in the United States is about 5.3 bushels, 529,000,000 bushels should meet our normal domestic requirements for food. In addition 300,000,000 bushels are required annually for seedling; 610,000,000 bushels, therefore, should supply the normal domestic demand.

"This would leave a surplus of 357,000,000 bushels. Of this surplus about 210,000,000 bushels were exported by Jan. 30. This left 147,000,000 bushels, or 40,000,000 bushels more than our average annual export for the past five years, for export between Feb. 1 and the appearance of the new crop, or for carrying over into the next crop year.

"The amount is sufficient to permit the export of nearly 1,000,000 bushels a day until July 1, before which time the new crop will begin to be available. This is about the average recent exportation.

"The large demand for our wheat arises from the fact that there was an estimated world's shortage of over 400,000,000 bushels outside of the United States; from the fact that the Russian exportable surplus of 100,000,000 bushels is not available generally and from the fact that the belligerent nations are eager to secure food supplies. If it were not for these things we should be discussing ways and means of disposing of our tremendous surplus of food products.

Wheat in Other Countries.

"As has been stated, the new American crop will begin to appear before July. The Argentine crop is now coming on the market. It is estimated that from that source there will be available 100,000,000 bushels. A surplus of 75,000,000 bushels or more from India will be available in May and June. The increase in the fall sown wheat acreage of the United States in 1914 was 11.1 per cent, or over 4,000,000 acres. In the northern hemisphere, generally, the acreage of winter wheat shows an increase of from 3 to 33 per cent, as follows: Denmark, 3 per cent; Italy, 5 per cent; Switzerland, 10 per cent; United Kingdom, 10 per cent; United States, 11 per cent; India, 35 per cent; Canada, 33 per cent.

"But suppose a shortage in wheat should develop in the next three months, what would be the situation? There is a great surplus in other food crops in the United States, a number of which can be used as substitutes.

"Wheat does not constitute more than 12 per cent of the normal diet, about the same as poultry and eggs. Meat and dairy products constitute 48 per cent, vegetables 11 per cent and fruits, nuts, sugar, fish and other items the remaining 19 per cent.

"There are larger supplies of corn and other grains, meat animals, dairy products, potatoes and fruit at the opening of 1915 than for many years. The most important competing products are corn and potatoes. This is shown by the fact that, while the normal consumption of wheat is 5.3 bushels, in Maine it is only 4.7 bushels and in Michigan 5.

Consumption of Crops.

"In the wheat growing states, where wheat is abundant, such as Minnesota, the average is 7.2, whereas in the south, where corn is much used, the average is 4 bushels. Normally about 3 per cent of the corn crop is consumed as food. Of our total crop, about 80 per cent would be used for food, the remainder for other purposes. The remainder could be used for foods and substitutes used for animals.

"The potato production in the United States averages 3.8 bushels per capita. This year the available supply is 4.1 bushels. The average price of meat animals was 7 per cent cheaper in January than a year ago, butter 2 per cent lower, the price of chickens slightly lower, of potatoes 35 per cent lower, and of apples it was 37 per cent lower.

"It would seem that the United States is not likely to be threatened with a shortage of foodstuffs."

Rat Slays Rattlesnake.

Herman Aars, a farmer living near Clifton, Ark., recently caught eleven large rattlesnakes alive, which he has held in captivity. At the same time he trapped a large rat, which he matched in battle against one of the snakes in an inclosed box. A battle raged for some minutes, at the conclusion of which the rat came out best, putting his antagonist to death.

FOE'S TRANSPORT SUNK, SAY BERLIN

British Ship is Torpedoed in English Channel.

A COLLIER, SAYS LONDON

Steamer Royterana Destroyed by German Submarine Off Eastbourne, Channel. Boat Dodges Torpedo.

London, Feb. 25.—A dispatch from Berlin asserts that an official statement was made by the German admiralty of the sinking of the British transport No. 192 by a German submarine off Beachy Head, on the English channel.

Whether this is correct or whether the boat that went down is the British collier Branksome Chine, which was struck by either a torpedo or a mine, is in doubt, but officials in London are inclined to believe the collier is the vessel meant.

Eighteen men from the Branksome Chine landed near Beachy Head in a small boat. They reported the vessel in distress, and said that the captain and mate were standing by, although the vessel was awash and in a sinking condition. As the ship has not been heard from since it is supposed she must have been sunk.

The steamer Royterana was sunk off Eastbourne. It is believed she was torpedoed by a German submarine. The crew of thirty-one men were saved.

The British steamship Oakby was torpedoed by a German submarine off Rye on Tuesday. Her crew was rescued by a fishing smack and landed at Ramsgate.

The Oakby was bound in ballast from London for Cardiff, Wales. She was struck on the port side. Her main hatch was blown off, and her decks were splintered and the binnacle was hurled into the air. One lifeboat was swamped by the great volume of water thrown up by the explosion.

The fishing smack Gratia, which was four miles off, felt the shock of the explosion, and arrived in time to take off the crew of the Oakby, none of whom was injured.

The periscope of a submarine was seen before the explosion by the chief engineer of the Oakby. An attempt was made to tow the Oakby to Dover, but she sank off Folkestone.

An attempt by a German submarine to sink a passenger ship was related in the following statement given out by the official press bureau:

"The secretary of the admiralty announces that the Folkestone-Boulogne cross-channel passenger boat was attacked shortly after leaving the Boulogne harbor by a German submarine. One torpedo passed thirty yards ahead of the ship.

"The passengers, numbering ninety-two, consisted of civilians and included a number of neutrals."

A dispatch from Paris says that this ship was the Victoria, and that among the passengers were some Americans. The French minister of marine announces that a torpedo boat sighted the submarine eight miles southwest of Cape Alprech, near Boulogne, and opened fire, striking the craft before she could dive.

The announcement adds that a wide patch of oil was seen afterwards on the sea at the spot where the submarine disappeared, and from this it is assumed that the submarine was wrecked.

SHOWED OBJECTIONABLE FILM

Allentown Audience Nearly Wrecks Entertainment as Result.

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 25.—The police are looking for Isaac Morrow, of Reading, a brother of David Morrow, who was committed to jail upon the charge of making and selling objectionable photographs.

The charge was sworn to by Miss Emily Egenweiller, owner of a moving picture theater in Mauch Chunk. The Morrrows are traveling photographers. Miss Egenweiller entered into an agreement with them to take a number of local views. Upon their assurance that all their views were clean, she did not think it necessary to censor them.

The presentation of a scene caused a near riot among the audience. David Morrow was caught, but the brother escaped.

TAFT'S AIDE COMMITS SUICIDE IN CLUB

Captain A. E. Harding Used Silencer on Revolver.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—Captain Arthur E. Harding, United States Marine Corps, who was attached to the office of the judge advocate general in Washington, committed suicide by shooting himself through the temple in his room in the Racquet club, on Sixteenth street below Walnut.

Captain Harding was marine aide to William H. Taft while he was president, and he is the second of the Taft aides to meet a violent death.

Major Archie Butt, with whom Captain Harding was associated when Butt was military aide to the former president, went down with the Titanic.

Captain Harding, who was forty-two years old, was married about six months ago, and was to have met his wife, who was coming from Washington, in Philadelphia. He shot himself within five minutes of the time he had laughed and joked with an attaché of the club, and declared he "never felt finer in his life."

A Maxim silencer, attached to the 45-caliber service revolver with which the shot was fired, explained why the report was not heard in any of the adjoining rooms. There is apparently no explanation available for the suicide.

SAYS BOY KILLED ANOTHER

Youngster is Charged With Slaying Boy For Teasing Goat.

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 25.—Seventeen-year-old James Ritz, of Allentown, is facing a murder charge on the allegation of having intentionally shot and killed Raymond, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Amendez Fritz, of Weissport, on Sunday.

The lads were members of a crowd of about a dozen boys who were playing along the canal. They were divided into squads and were teasing a goat. As the goat charged at Fritz, it is charged that Ritz fired his 22-caliber rifle. The bullet entered the chest of young Fritz.

Ritz said that he did not aim at the goat, but was firing at a tin can as a target, and that the bullet "ricocheted."

PIUTE CHIEF ESCAPES

Aid Rushed to Posse Headed by U. S. Marshal.

Washington, Feb. 25.—United States Marshal Nebecker telegraphed the attorney general that Tse-Na-Gat, the Piute Indian charged with murder, had escaped from his entrenchment west of Bluff, Utah, after displaying a flag of truce and offering to surrender.

The marshal asked for a detachment of twenty Navajo police sent from the Shiprock agency to aid in the pursuit of the fugitive and his companions.

The Indian bureau, at the request of the department of justice, ordered the Shiprock agency to rush a detachment to the scene. Assistant Attorney General Warren telegraphed the district attorney in Utah not to hesitate to call for troops if they were needed.

A special to the Salt Lake City Evening Telegraph from Bluff says it is reported that several Utes, formerly friendly, have joined the hostile Piutes under Old Polk.

WINTER FRUIT SALADS.

DINNER MENU.
Stewed Chicken, Cream Dressing.
Baked Sweet Potatoes.
Creamed Carrots.
Banana Salad, Pineapple Souffle.
Coffee.

THE problem of salad making in winter is greatly simplified by the use of winter fruits and nuts. Some desirable winter fruit salads are suggested here:

An Attractive Dish.

Apple and Walnut Salad.—Cut into cubes two apples, pared, and one apple with the skin on, a few stalks of celery and a cupful of walnut meats. Stir in a bowl with some salad dressing. Put a spoonful of this on a lettuce leaf, with a bit of the dressing on top.

Orange and Grape Salad.—Take two seedless oranges and pare them, cutting deep enough to remove all the white, and cut the pulp into small pieces. Add Malaga grapes from which the seeds have been removed and one tablespoonful of pimento cut into tiny strips. Moisten with French dressing and serve in nests of lettuce leaves.

With French Dressing.

Banana Salad.—Take the skins from bananas, scrape, using a silver knife, and cut in thirds crosswise; then cut each third in pieces lengthwise and roll in finely chopped peanuts. Arrange with slices of tangerines or oranges on a bed of lettuce leaves and pour French dressing over.

Orange and Grapefruit Salad.—Take a full head of lettuce, wash thoroughly and split in two. Remove inside leaves, enough to make a hollow. In this place alternately slices of orange and grapefruit, garnishing the edges with Malaga grapes, split and seeded. Strew finely chopped nuts over the fruit and place a Maraschino cherry on top. Serve with a sharp French dressing to which a little lemon juice has been added.

Anna Thompson.

Ham Patties.

Chop fine about a pint of cold cooked ham, add three cupfuls of bread-crumbs, three beaten eggs and sweet milk to make a soft batter. Drop into gem pans, dot with butter, dust with crumbs and bake until nicely browned.

CORSET COVER IN SURPRISE EFFECT.

As dainty a bit of lingerie as has been seen this season is illustrated in this surprise corset cover of embroidered crepe de Chine.

Lingerie cannot be too dainty for the woman who is fond of pretty clothes. The surprise cover shown here is entirely new in outline and design, and it will appeal to the home dressmaker because it requires such little work. For the average size 1½ yard of 36-inch material will be needed for the corset cover in the accompanying illustration. The widest latitude is allowed in the selection of materials, but for very dressy occasions silk crepe de Chine is especially desirable. It launders well and wears as long as most of Pictorial Review Corset Cover No. 6087. Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust. Price, 15 cents.

Wrong Dinner Hour.
Our dinner hour is wrong, according to Professor Bergoin of Bordeaux university. The human body, says he, is an engine driven by a steam boiler. Food is its fuel. The most fuel should be used just before the heaviest work is done. The heaviest meal should come, he says, before the day's work—in other words, at breakfast. The mid-day meal should be lighter and the evening one hardly a meal at all.—New York Post.

First War Balloon.
At the battle of Fleuris, June 26, 1794, in the French revolutionary period, the balloon was for the first time used in the service of the army. The Austrians, stupefied, saw the captive airship Entrepreneur above their heads at a height of 300 meters. This apparition greatly angered the Austrian General Colbourn, who cried out, "Is there anything these scoundrels will not invent?"

Slight Error.
Customer (to druggist)—The label on this bottle isn't right. Druggist—Why not? It says: "One teaspoonful as required. Shake before taking." Customer—It should read, "Take before shaking." This medicine is for chills. Isn't it?—Boston Transcript.

the tub materials employed for lingerie. The corset cover closes at the front and is held together over the shoulders with ribbon bows. In attempting to make the model, first fold the material carefully, pinning the outer edges together, if necessary. Sometimes crepe de Chine "creases," therefore it should be well secured before cutting.

Following the slot perforations, turn a hem in the front of the design. The single large and small "O" perforations are to show how the front is to be lapped on the back. When properly done these perforations will match evenly. Tack at large "O" perforations and stitch lower edges together. Keeping the illustration in mind, lap right back on left, with the centers even. The middle of the back may be traced by the double "OO" perforations. Stitch lower edges together; then gather the corset cover between double "TT" perforations to add the peplum. Sew the belt to gathered edge of front and back, matching the center of the belt with center of the front and back of the cover. Tack ribbon at upper pointed ends, so that when they are tied they form the armholes.

The embroidery may be done last, and the design is so simple that it will work up very quickly. A lace edging may be added if preferred.

The pair of us had been in Athens three or four days when a party of English excursionists who were making a tour arrived. Among them was an antiquary who was looked up to and respected for his knowledge of ancient history and ruins.

Professor Himstead, as he was named, had been charged to pick up all the old Greek manuscripts to be had for money, and it was his inquiries for such documents that doubtless led to our undoing. One day a man named Talanti, who had somewhat the manners and dress of a gentleman, brought the professor two ancient manuscripts as a present, and to show his further good will he announced a valuable discovery which had just been made on the island of Aegina, about forty miles distant. He was the owner of the island, and while his workmen were getting out some stone they had come across some rare treasures in art, but had developed only a small portion of them. They had partly uncovered a stone box which he believed held a large number of manuscripts and valuable coins, but he had delayed the opening of it that some of his friends might be present. Three or four of them were going to his island home tomorrow, and he would be glad to have on his yacht as many of us foreigners go along as could make it convenient.

Aside from the English party, there were Americans, Germans and Frenchmen to the number of twenty in Athens, and when the list was made up we were numbered over forty, of whom ten were ladies. When we went on board there was considerable surprise at finding her the craft she was. She was nothing more than a trader, and her accommodations were of a primitive character.

My friend the professor could speak Greek, but when he entered into conversation with Mr. Talanti's friends he found them sulky enough. This excited our surprise, as they were supposed to be gentlemen. When we came to look them over we began to get a little suspicious.

As we approached the island we saw it was fairly covered with trees, yet it did not have a hospitable look. As we made a close approach we could see a couple of rude huts and a primitive jetty, but Mr. Talanti explained that his castle was hidden by the forest and that he was landing at that point to save us a long walk.

As soon as the craft was made fast the three eminent friends of Mr. Talanti suddenly produced pistols and knives and took their station by the gangway. The sailors divided into two parties, and, handling their naked knives in a menacing fashion, they drove the people into line.

When Professor Himstead had rubbed his eyes, scratched his head and got it into his brain that something not down on the program was going on Talanti mounted a box and smilingly observed:

"Ladies and gentlemen, you are now about to pass ashore to behold my wonderful discoveries, but each one of you is required to leave all money and jewelry behind you. I will see that everything is safely cared for."

The men cried out in anger, but what could they do? I do not think there was a firearm among them, while the Greeks seemed overanxious to use their knives. There were protestations and threats of the law, but Talanti only smiled at them and ordered the work to go on. Each man in the crowd was regularly held up—that is, his pockets were thoroughly searched and everything of value taken. The women were requested to hand over, and each one had her watch and rings in hand as she moved up. In the course of half an hour every one was ashore, and then Talanti took off his hat, made a sweeping bow and sailed away with his piratical crew. He had no sooner gone than half a dozen villainous looking men came down from the hut.

They told us they were fishermen, but their actions belied their statement. Their first move was to demand cash, and great was their indignation and disappointment at being told that Talanti's crowd had taken the last coin. When sure of this they left us, and an hour later two genuine fishermen came ashore in their boat. There were a dozen vessels within five or six miles of us, and a dollar would have been big pay for them to go out and notify the nearest one of our situation; but, realizing our helplessness, they demanded the sum of $100.

It was almost dark when a battered old schooner came sailing up to take us off, and the terms were $2 a piece, to be paid in Athens. We spent a dreary night on deck and landed in the city at noon next day. Immediately notice was given to the various consuls and to the Greek government, but no one had any faith that anything would be accomplished. The government made loud promises and seemed to be making all possible efforts; but, as a matter of fact, Mr. Talanti was not even pursued. He never could have put up such a job without a number of officials standing in with him, and each and every one of them doubtless shared in the plunder when it was divided. It was said that the money and jewelry amounted to about $6,000, and the only consolation any of the victims had was the privilege of abusing a country where such things could be carried out.

Nobody can Tell when you
Darken Gray, Faded Hair
with Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks
